Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC)

As an International Student, you are required to have an Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) policy to cover the period you are staying in Australia.

You can go online to you OHSC provider and find the list for FREE doctors

For more information on what your OSHC insurance covers, as well as what to do if you need treatment, refer to the Department of Health's (DoH) OHSC Fact Sheet:

https://www.health.gov.au/resources/publications/overseas-student-health-cover-oshc-fact-sheet

OVERSEAS STUDENT HEALTH COVER (OSHC) - FACT SHEET

INTRODUCTION

OSHC is private health insurance to assist overseas students and their dependants with meeting the costs of unplanned medical and hospital care which they may need while undertaking formal studies in Australia. OSHC includes ambulance cover and limited pharmaceutical items.

HOW IT WORKS

OSHC products and policies may only be offered by insurers that are a party to the Australian Government Deed for the Provision of Overseas Student Health Cover (the Deed). The Deed sets out conditions with which a registered Australian private health insurer (the insurer) must comply in order to provide OSHC products and policies.

There are currently 6 private health insurers operating in Australia which offer OSHC:

- ahm OSHC (offered through Medibank Private)
- Allianz Global Assistance (Peoplecare Health)
- Bupa Australia
- CBHS International Health
- Medibank Private

OSHC can typically be purchased directly through:

- the overseas student's Educational Institution or University;
- the insurer;
- a migration agent; or
- an education agent acting as an intermediary on behalf of the Educational Institution.

OSHC products and policies vary between individual insurers so it is important to take note of what is (and is not) covered under each product. While, insurers are required to offer a minimum level of benefits (as set out in the Deed) they may choose to offer additional benefits above the minimum as part of their product offering. These additional benefits may include 'extras' or include higher benefits for certain services. Costs will vary and will be dependent on the level of cover provided by each insurer.

A Single OSHC insurance policy applies to the overseas student who is the primary Student Visa holder and who does not have dependents linked to their Student Visa. For an overseas student with dependants joining them in Australia, a Couple, Single-Parent and/or Family OSHC policy applies.

There are waiting periods for certain services (excluding emergency treatments) covered under OSHC products and policies. Services and treatments covered under a person's policy will only attract a benefit once a policy holder has served the required waiting period. Ordinarily, waiting periods include:

- 12 months for Pre-existing conditions;
- 12 months for Pregnancy related conditions;
- · 2 months for Pre-existing Psychiatric conditions.

The waiting periods do not apply for emergency treatment, even when the treatment is for a pre-existing condition, provided it meets the definition of 'emergency' as set out in the Deed.

When seeking medical or hospital treatment in Australia, overseas students are recommended to contact their insurer before agreeing to treatment to understand how they will be covered and any out of pocket costs that may apply. Overseas students who choose not to contact their insurers before agreeing to treatment or hospital admission are likely to be required to pay for all costs at the time of treatment and, if the services are not covered by their insurer, the insurer is not required to pay a benefit.

Where a medical or hospital treatment is covered by their insurer, a bill or account will be issued for payment. Overseas students may choose to:

- pay the bill and apply for reimbursement from their insurer; or
- · provide the unpaid bill directly to their insurer for processing.

The process for submitting an OSHC claim and the payment of benefits (and issuing of refunds if required) can vary depending on the insurer. Overseas students are recommended to contact the relevant insurer for further information on how to submit an OSHC claim and processing times which can vary depending on the nature of the claim.

KEY FACTS

- OSHC is a condition of the Student Visa. This is mandated by the Department of Home Affairs. It is a condition that overseas students and their dependants maintain adequate arrangements for health insurance for the duration of the intended Student Visa period or the Student Visa will be cancelled.
- Exceptions from the requirement of OSHC apply only to students that are:
- Norwegian students covered by the Norwegian National Insurance Scheme:
- Swedish students covered by Kammarkollegiet; and
- Belgian students covered under the Reciprocal Health Care Agreement with Australia.
- However, it is important to note that these arrangements (generally) do not cover services that are considered 'general treatment' or 'extras' and these students may wish to consider separately obtaining such cover.
- OSHC must be purchased before arrival in Australia and must be aligned with the intended Student Visa period – evidence of OSHC is required at time of Student Visa application. An overseas student (and their dependants) cannot enter Australia until the OSHC policy has commenced.
- While in Australia, overseas students can transfer their cover to another OSHC insurer if they choose, providing their cover does not lapse (overseas students must never be without OSHC while in Australia). Waiting periods served with one insurer will count toward waiting periods with the new insurer.
- If an overseas student encounters a problem with their policy they should contact their insurer. They may also choose to contact the Commonwealth Ombudsman for further advice and assistance via www.ombudsman.gov.au

How much can you work?

As of 1 July 2023, International students cannot work more than forty (48) hours per two weeks when you course is in session.

Always remember which visa you are holding and meeting its requirements

As of 1 October 2023, the National Minimum Wage is $23.23 per hour or $882.80 per week.

Further information about student visa conditions can be found at the Department of Home Affairs: Meet the following Student Visa 500 subclass requirements

International students

Like many international students, you may get a part-time or casual job to help pay your living expenses while you study in Australia. It is important that you know your rights in the workplace.

Your workplace rights and protections

All people working in Australia have basic rights and protections in the workplace, including minimum pay and conditions. The Fair Work Ombudsman makes sure that these rights are protected and enforced fairly under Australia's workplace laws.

This fact sheet will help you understand your basic workplace rights, where to obtain further information, and how to seek assistance from the Fair Work Ombudsman. For more information, contact the Fair Work Infoline on 13 13 94 or visit fairwork.gov.au

All references to an award or agreement in this fact sheet include modern awards, enterprise agreements, and award or agreement-based transitional instruments.

What is the difference between full-time, part-time and casual work?

Full-time employees generally work 38 hours per week and receive pay for a full week's work as well as conditions like paid annual leave and sick leave. A full-time worker is also entitled to notice of termination of their employment. This means that if your employer no longer wants to employ you, they have to provide a period of notice (or payment instead of the notice period) depending on how long you have worked there.

Part-time employees work regular hours each week, but less than the 38 hours of full-time employees. Part-time employees get the same minimum entitlements (such as sick leave and annual leave) as a full-time employee, but on a pro-rata basis.

An employee is casual if:

· they're offered a job

- the offer doesn't include a firm advance commitment that the work will continue indefinitely with an agreed pattern of work
- they accept the offer knowing there is no firm advance commitment and become an employee.

A regular pattern of work doesn't automatically mean the employee is permanent. Casual employees do not get paid sick leave or annual leave and are not usually entitled to notice of termination. This means a casual employee can be terminated at any time. For more information about casual employees visit fairwork.gov.au/casual

Regardless of your type of employment, you must have permission to work in Australia and hold a valid work visa. It is important you understand the rules of your work visa before starting a job, including the number of hours you are allowed to work each week. For information on visa requirements, contact the Department of Home Affairs on 13 18 81 or visit homeaffairs.gov.au

What are my minimum rights and conditions at work?

All employees in the national workplace relations system receive basic minimum entitlements known as the National Employment Standards (NES).

The NES include:

- · Maximum weekly hours of work
- · Requests for flexible working arrangements
- · Parental leave and related entitlements
- Annual leave
- Personal/carer's leave, compassionate leave and family and domestic violence leave
- · Community service leave
- Long service leave
- Public holidays
- · Notice of termination and redundancy pay

Fair Work Ombudsman

Fair Work Ombudsman investigates workplace complaints.

Fair Work Ombudsman offers free information and advice on pay, conditions, and workplace rights and obligations.

Compassionate or compelling circumstances

- o serious illness or injury, where a medical certificate states that the student was unable to attend classes;
- bereavement of close family members such as parents or grandparents (where possible a death certificate should be provided);
- o major political upheaval or natural disaster in the home country requiring their emergency travel and this has impacted on their studies;
- o a traumatic experience which could include but is not limited to:
- o involvement in or witnessing of an accident or
- o a crime committed against the student or
- o the student has been a witness to a crime, and this has impacted on the student (these cases should be supported by police or psychologists' reports).

When determining whether compassionate or compelling circumstances exist, IIB will consider documentary evidence provided to support the claim.

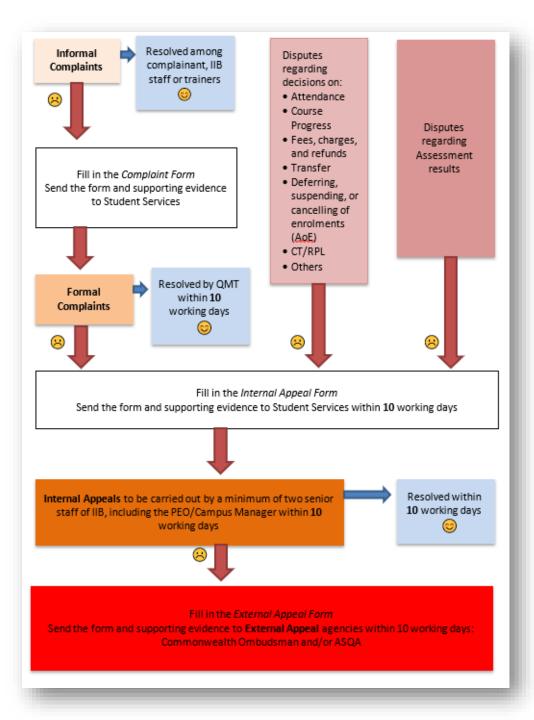

What should you do if you are sick?
